Mrs. Teresa Zamboni was arrested at her home on River street this morning by Deputy Sheriff H. D. Camp on a warrant charging her with breach of the peace, it being alleged that she whipped two young children yesterday. She told the officers that the children were peeking into the windows of her house and were also saucy to her when she told them to go away. She admitted that she caught them and cuffed their ears. She was arraigned in court and entered a plea of not guilty and the case was set for a hearing to-morrow morning.

It is hardly probable that money is so plenty in Barre that it is being used to fill up the old river bed, but a one-dollar bill was fished out of the water back of Brown's drug store this afternoon. The bill was in plain sight from the rear piazza and looked decidedly tempting regardless of the doubtful debris in which it rested.

OUT FOR THE FEES.

Corporation Directors Want Their Rights and Usually Get Them.

A large corporation held a directors' meeting a few days ago. As the meeting was coming to a close one of the directors, reputed to be worth $10,000, ran in all out of breath. Just as he entered the other directors were making their exit, says the Hartford Courant.

"Look here," the incoming director shouted to the chairman, "I want to know why I haven't received notice of this meeting."

"I am sure I don't know," the chairman said. "Notices were sent to all directors. You surely must have received one."

The director finished up an excited trade by saying, "I want my rights." Just then the secretary was brought into conference, who in turn handed the late director an envelope. He departed with a smiling countenance.

This recalls the story of a New York corporation where $20 for each director was laid on the table and those who attended divided the whole pile. If half came each got $40. The members were men far advanced in years and in riches. One day it stormed violently when a meeting was to be held. The executive officers did not believe a single director would be there, but every man of them was on hand, each having figured out that nobody else would appear and that he might swipe the entire allowance.

On a Grain of Wheat.

Prayers have been written and engraved on many small objects, but only one person ever has been patient and painstaking enough to inscribe a complete prayer on a grain of wheat. One day Sir Moses Montefiore received a small tin box in the mail. On the cover of the box was written, "A prayer for Sir Moses Montefiore, by Rauch Mordecai, son of Zebi Hirsch Scheinmann of Jerusalem." The box contained a single grain of wheat, on which were inscribed in characters so small they could only be read with the aid of a powerful microscope the 388 Hebrew letters of the prayer and the date of the year (Hebrew reckoning), 5645. Sir Moses kept the prayer in his private desk until he died, and it is preserved with religious care by one of his friends.
